

GOLD STAR CERTIFIED INSULATION CONTRACTOR PROGRAM

INTRODUCTION

NCFI Polyurethanes welcomes you to participate in the NCFI Gold Star Certified Insulation Contractor Program. More and more, insulation specifiers and building code authorities are requesting that NCFI spray polyurethane foam insulation be installed by a contractor certified or approved by NCFI. We have created this program to meet this need.

To become a GOLD STAR Contractor you will be required by NCFI to meet certain standards. These include level of experience, size of operation, insurance carried, and knowledge of spray foam insulation systems. You'll even have to take a written test (we'll provide you with a study guide).

The benefits of being a GOLD STAR Contractor will make the effort worth it. First will be the prestige value of being identified with the elite contractors in the industry. Second, you will be eligible to bid on insulation projects that require a certified contractor. Third, as NCFI expands its national advertising and promotional activities, we'll provide you with job leads. Fourth, certain joint promotional and marketing benefits will become available to you.

This binder provides you with additional information and forms you will need to initiate the Certification process. We at NCFI will gladly assist you with any additional information you need or answer any questions you have.

We look forward to welcoming you into NCFI's GOLD STAR community!
